In a Dark Hour

Jesus exaggerates in today's Gospel when He claims not to know the day or the hour when He will come again. Christ occasionally makes such overstatements to drive home a point we might otherwise miss (see Matthew 5:34; 23:9; Luke 14:26). His point here is that the exact "hour" is not important. What is crucial is that we not postpone our repentance, that we be ready for Him—spiritually and morally—when He comes. For He will surely come, He tells us—like a thief in the night, like the flood in the time of Noah. In today's Epistle, Paul too compares the present age to a time of advancing darkness and night. Though we sit in the darkness, overshadowed by death, we have seen arise the great light of our Lord who has come into our midst (see Matthew 4:16; John 1:9; 8:12). He is the true light, the life of the world. And His light continues to shine in His Church, the new Jerusalem promised by Isaiah in today's First Reading.

In the Church, all nations stream to the God of Jacob, to worship and seek wisdom in the House of David. From the Church goes forth His word of instruction, the light of the Lord—that all might walk in His paths toward that eternal day when night will be no more (see Revelation 22:5). By our Baptism we have been made children of the light and day (see Ephesians 5:8; 1 Thessalonians 5:5–7). It is time we start living like it: throwing off the fruitless works of darkness, rejecting the desires of the flesh, and walking by the light of His grace.

The hour is late as we begin a new Advent. Let us begin again in this Eucharist. As we sing in today's Psalm, "let us go rejoicing to the house of the Lord." Let us give thanks to His name, keeping watch for His coming, knowing that our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. Reflection by Scott Hahn

The Word this Sunday

"After a storm comes sunshine, and the good God, who casts down and raises up again, makes joy succeed affliction, and lets the effects of His power be in the measure of our hope founded on His goodness." -St. Vincent dePaul

Our St. Vincent de Paul Society (SVdP) sincerely thanks the parishioners of St. Elizabeth Seton for their time, talent and treasure they so lovingly give to our community. SVdP was able to financially help Hurricane Ian victims with utility bills and rent along with food, clothing and furniture.

To continue helping the underserved in our community, SVdP is pairing with SES in a Clothing Distribution Program. In the spirit of St. Vincent, we will listen to the people we hope to serve and grow our program from their needs.

Saturday, November 12 in the Parish Center from 9am to Noon we will be distributing clothing and linens. We need volunteers to help sort and organize clothing. If you speak Spanish or Creole, your talents would be much appreciated. You would not need to volunteer the entire time.

If interested, please contact the parish office (239-455-3900) or talk to a SVdP Vincentian after Mass. We will be in the Narthex after each Mass this weekend. Thank you!
